

November Degree Policy

Students who intend to graduate in November may be eligible to remain enrolled in the Harvard University Student Health Program (HUSHP) for the Fall term of coverage. Their eligibility for enrollment depends upon the date their degree requirements are completed.

Eligibility for enrollment

November degree candidates who complete their degree requirements:	Insurance impact:
On or before September 6, 2023*	HUSHP charges will be removed from your student term bill and your coverage will be cancelled back to July 31. You will be charged for any services incurred through the health program during this period.
On or after September 7, 2023	HUSHP charges will remain on your student term bill and your coverage remains active from August 1 through January 31.

* In most instances you have 30 days from your last day of coverage to secure other coverage. Contact our office to request a coverage termination letter in order to obtain other coverage. Please allow three business days for letter requests.

 If you are a November degree student and want to opt out of the Student Health Insurance Plan, you must complete an online waiver application by the waiver deadline (July 31).

For waiver eligibility and application please go to husp.harvard.edu/waiver-eligibility-application-process/.
